

Sunday, August 15, 2004

Kibesillah

On Sunday, August 15, 2003, Randy Fry was diving for abalone with Cliff Zimmerman near Westport. Randy dove and then Zimmerman felt the water move as if a boat went by and Randy never came up. The shark surfaced momentarily, then disappeared as the water turned red. Randy's body was found the next day by a search team. His story appears on the Nor-Cal Skin Divers' website at Remembrance.